Baker Concrete Delivers Thousands With Thousands...Of Toys That Is!

October 24, 2008, Monroe, Ohio – For the third consecutive year, Baker Concrete Construction is joining forces with Salvation Army to help provide holiday toys for the nation’s underprivileged children.

Relying on the generosity of its workforce, Baker will again sponsor the Holiday Toy Drive, which seeks toy donations from the 4,500 Baker coworkers located across the U.S.A. The unwrapped gifts are then presented to the Salvation Army.

Over the past two years, Baker has donated over 7,100 toys to the program. In addition, the Baker Company matches the gift amounts given by coworkers.

“We’re proud to take part in this wonderful program every year,” said Mike Schneider, Chief People Officer. “Given the current financial uncertainty, we’re honored to help.”

An industry leading concrete contractor, Baker Concrete Construction (www.bakerconcrete.com) specializes in a wide array of concrete solutions ranging from light commercial to heavy industrial. Baker has a distinguished record of safety, quality and efficiency, earning Engineering News Record’s Top Specialty Contractor recognition nineteen times. Founded in 1968 by Daniel L. Baker in Monroe, Ohio, the company employs 4,500 people in seven branch locations, and has completed projects throughout the United States and the Caribbean.
